Dear ICANN DIDP team, and counsel:

I have just reviewed the ICANN071 [missive \[gac.icann.org\]](https://www.icann.org/gac/missive) from the GAC, where it offers "consensus advice" to the Board with respect to IGO acronyms. Curiously, the document twice mentions a "curative work track" that the GAC states is "currently underway" and is "expected to conclude within the calendar year." My client GCCIX WLL respectfully requests any and all information about this "work track", including without limitation any and all public documents or information relating to this effort, its genesis, its scope, and/or its participants.

Moreover, my client requests prompt written notification of any further, proposed ICANN Board and/or Staff action in relation to this topic, including without limitation any response to the GAC on this topic, and/or any related resolutions or next steps in the "work track." This activity seems potentially to have impact on the subject matter of the pending IRP proceeding, unless ICANN can clarify otherwise?

Kind regards,
Mike
