I encourage you and other church-goers to do it; at the same time, perhaps get the letters to request .kids be approved in lieu of .xxx ---church folks might like the idea of being against .xxx but in favor of .kids??

I have Time Warner's Roadrunner, and last Thursday tried to send some photos of a new porn girl to a Director who uses AOL. Although only slightly related, AOL returned the email to me because of Too Many Body Parts.

I Alerted the Dept of Commerce, and ICANN GAC/Other Individuals of my ICANN Posting

FWIW, In case any of you want to use the below email addresses to forward copies of YOUR letters urging ICANN disapproval of .xxx, some pertinent email addresses are shown below in my forwarding/comments to the Secretary of Commerce (Mr. GUTIERREZ); my forwarding/comments to specific ICANN officials and many of the ICANN GAC (Governments Advisory Council) officials; and, my recent posting to the ICANN public comments page. Although my stage name is Dave Cummings, for these communications, I used my real/legal name of David Conners in the below:

Subject: Fw: .xxx, IMO, Will Involve ICANN (not Just ICM/If for) in Many and Constant Court Cases, Possible Criminal Conspiracy Trials, and NOT Protect Children Like .kids Might!

Dear Mr Secretary:

Please personally get involved and lend the full power of the U.S. Department of Commerce to assist the CC' addressees in stopping the .xxx domain approval which is presently under consideration at ICANN. IMO, there are some indications of secret deals being made by the .xxx petitioner ICM with others in exchange for their support, or their silence, (something that might involve courts and possibly law enforcement for years?) while this gets jammed down the throats of Red-Blooded All-Americans. The below letter lays it out for you, and I'm contactable if I can assist you. Please get .xxx permanently denied, and please push .kids for an early approval so that children REALLY CAN be better protected.

Sincerely,

David Conners
